

Quincy University Cumulative Undergraduate Outcomes Report collected within 6 months of graduating.

Grad Year	Professional Success Rate	Professional Employment	Graduate Studies	Under-employed /Still Seeking	% of the Class Surveyed	% not Surveyed
2022-2023	96%	70%	26%	4%	90%	10%
2021-2022	93%	62%	31%	7%	93%	7%
2020-2021	91%	69%	22%	9%	93%	7%
2019-2020	86%	72%	14%	14%	92%	8%
2018-2019	91%	75%	16%	9%	95%	5%
2017-2018	92%	72%	20%	8%	93%	7%
2016-2017	93%	71%	22%	7%	94%	6%
2015-2016	90%	72%	18%	10%	93%	7%
2014-2015	92%	73%	19%	8%	93%	7%
2013-2014	89%	74%	15%	11%	93%	7%
Ten year Average	90%	71%	19%	10%	93%	7%

- ◆ Professional Success Rate includes students working in a full-time professional position and/or enrolled in graduate school.
- ◆ Students working part-time in their career field are considered under-employed or still seeking.

2022-2023 Graduates have found employment with the following companies:

- ◆ Amazon
- ◆ Barnes Jewish Hospital
- ◆ Blessing Health Systems
- ◆ Enterprise
- ◆ Harvard University
- ◆ KPMG
- ◆ Mercy Hospital
- ◆ STERIS
- ◆ Washington University

2022-2023 graduates accepted into the following programs:

- ◆ Loyola University, Masters in Data Science
- ◆ Quincy University, MBA, MAC, MEC, and MSE Programs
- ◆ Mayo Clinic School of Health Sciences, Echocardiography Program
- ◆ Missouri State University, Doctorate of Physical Therapy
- ◆ Saint Louis University, School of Medicine
- ◆ Washington University, Masters in Business Administration

Outcome Methodology

This report contains professional employment and graduate school outcomes for the Quincy University Undergraduate, graduating Class of 2022-2023. This information was collected by the Director of Experiential Learning within six months of students graduating. Statistics were collected from a survey given to accelerated adult professional studies and traditional undergraduate students in May and followed up through personal phone calls, emails, social media, and faculty reporting.