

IRB and Class Assignments

Quincy University instructors who assign projects in which students will be conducting research or gathering data are asked to submit the assignment to the IRB committee. Please include any instructions to students regarding the way in which anonymity will be maintained or measures taken to ensure confidentiality of participants. The assignment only needs to be submitted once, even if it is assigned every semester or on a yearly basis. If the assignment changes substantially it should be resubmitted as a new assignment.

These class assignments will be kept on file. Taking the time to submit to the IRB committee serves as protection for both faculty and students.
